

Manuscript Editors

These individuals are available to edit, format, and proof academic work for a fee. The University of Northern Iowa takes no responsibility for the quality or cost of their work, and the student remains fully responsible for meeting all requirements regarding final thesis content and format.

To avoid problems: 1) Ask for a written estimate and get the names of several references. 2) CONTACT those references before you enter into an agreement. 3) Create a written agreement that describes exactly what will be done, the cost for the services, and the due dates for both completed work and payment.

Editors: if you would like to add or edit your professional information, please contact Lori Miller, lori.miller@uni.edu.
